Capital West Oklahoma Index Fund Filed with Securities and Exchange Commission

OKLAHOMA CITY – Oklahoma-based Capital West Securities recently filed a registration statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to launch the Capital West Oklahoma Index Fund. The Fund is expected to be traded on the American Stock Exchange under the stock symbol “OOK.” The SEC accepted the paperwork on March 3. Final approval is expected within four to six months.

The fund will be made up exclusively of stocks issued by Oklahoma’s publicly traded companies. OOK is expected to be the first state-based Exchange Traded Fund (ETF) to “ring the bell” and begin trading.

“We have some outstanding companies with proven abilities that will make this fund a great vehicle to invest in Oklahoma with us,” said Keith Geary, chairman, president and CEO of Capital West Securities.

Geary, along with his wife Joni, also announced that at least 10% of the management fee earned from OOK will be donated to Aaron’s Bridge, a newly formed non-profit whose purpose is to address children’s issues in Oklahoma, the first of which is to see to it that a biomedical-based treatment option be available in Oklahoma for children that are diagnosed with developmental disorders (autism, PDD, Asperger’s syndrome, ADD, ADHD and NLD).

McAfee & Taft, Oklahoma’s largest law firm, provided legal services to Capital West in conjunction with the filing of the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 and the Investment Company Act of 1940.
